Erasmus

This week we have been part of an Erasmus+ project, funded by the EU, enabling us to share good practice regarding food education with partners across Europe. On Wednesday the team visited Newland St John's and were shown the allotment by Squirrels class. The visitors were overwhelmed with what they saw. They particularly commented on how polite and articulate the children were, as well as being very impressed with the range of activities that go on in school. Our Twitter feed will give you an idea of the week's activities.

Parents/Carers

If someone else is collecting your child from school, please call the office before lunchtime so we can inform teachers.

Attendance

This week our attendance has been 97.2%. The best attendance was 100% Squirrels Class. Well done!

NYCGB choir auditions

If you're passionate about singing in choirs and vocal ensembles and want to make music with the best young singers of your age from around the UK, then an audition for the National Youth Choirs of Great Britain (NYCGB) could be the start of something amazing. NYCGB is holding auditions in Hull on Saturday 10th November at the Albemarle Music Centre for anyone interested in joining NYCGB choirs and would love to hear as many talented young singers as possible.
